

The 2013 Safety Achievement Awards

BY TRACEY ALFONSI, DIRECTOR OF EDUCATION & SAFETY SERVICES

Winners, Over 500,000 Hours

On May 30, 2014 the CAM Safety Achievement Awards were presented to 28 member companies. Safety Achievement Awards are earned by achieving Days Away/Restricted/Transfer Rates (DART) and Recordable Injury and Illness Rates (IR) below 2012 construction industry standards, 2.0 and 3.7 respectively, while maintaining an Experience Modification Rating (EMR) below 1.0. All of our applicants were categorized by hours worked, then by their Incident Rate, and finally, in the case of a tie, the Experience Modification Rate was considered. We awarded Gold, Silver, Bronze and Honorable Mention certificates in each hours worked category. All of the entries received combined to equal 5,466,710 hours worked. More than half of the entrants reported ZERO injuries in 2012.

Winners, 0-50,999 Hours

Winners, 51,000 - 199,999 Hours

In addition to the awards ceremony and full breakfast, attendees enjoyed a presentation by Ronald Weglarz, attorney with Lacey & Jones, LLP. Weglarz discussed workers' compensation law and recommended strategies for properly documenting an incident and how to speed return to work for an injured employee.

We'd like to congratulate all of the award winners. Entries for the 2014 Safety Achievement Awards will be accepted beginning January 1, 2015. This is a good way to gauge the effectiveness of your safety program and an opportunity to brag to your customers. In the meantime, I wish you all a safe and prosperous season.
